22. [redacted] Per a telephone call from Phyllis Bacon, Senate Armed Services Committee staff, called [redacted] office and asked what title he would like shown beside his name in the 8 April 1975 hearing before that Committee. It was decided his name and Chief, East Asia Division, Central Intelligence Agency, would be used and Ms. Bacon was advised of this.

23. [redacted] I spoke to Jim Davidson, Counsel, Senate Government Operations Subcommittee on Intergovernmental Relations, after his presentation concerning the Agency's implementation of the Privacy Act and the move to substitute intelligence sources and methods for the Agency's exemption at the FOI symposia. He asked that I meet with him sometime next week to discuss the matter further.

24. [redacted] and I stopped by to talk with Alan Parker on H.R. 61, a bill to control the use of criminal justice information. Mr. Parker is Counsel to the House Judiciary Subcommittee on Civil Rights and Constitutional Rights. He was very sympathetic to the Agency's interests as we outlined them for him. He said that he believed these problems resulted not from any intent to shaft the Agency but rather from the fact that the draftsmen had not considered the Agency at all in writing the bill. I mentioned that this surmise was borne out by my discussions with Jim Wentzel of the Justice Department who apparently wrote the bill. Mr. Parker said that even though the bill's coverage of the Agency was accidental, it would be very difficult to remedy the situation given the "temper of the times" and the orientation of the Committee members. He suggested that our best hope would be a new bill altogether -- a joint venture by Representative Edwards (D., Calif.) and Senator Tunney (D., Calif.) -- which he, Parker, might be called on to draft de novo. It is not certain that this new bill will be requested, but Parker implied that if it was, he would accommodate the Agency's interests. Meanwhile, he said he will try his best to argue the Agency's viewpoint regarding H.R. 61, and he asked us to prepare a series of hypothetical situations which he could use to dramatize the impracticability of applying the bill to the Agency. We left him an aide memoire on H.R. 61.

After checking, I called Ianucci back and explained that the spelling of the constituent's name had been given to us previously as [redacted] Ianucci said this was in error and understood that this in effect would become a new case since all checks would have to be re-run under the corrected name. The Freedom of Information Coordinator was alerted to this.

Spenceley asked for a briefing on the impact upon the Japanese economy if all Japanese exports to the U.S. were cut off. The information was needed in connection with pending legislation which would direct such action in retaliation if the Japanese whaling industry continues to disregard whaling conservation. I told [redacted] I would handle the call.

8. [redacted] Talked to Mr. Malmberg, Assistant Legal Adviser, State Department, concerning the Director's proposed position on S. 244 amending the National Security Act of 1947 on (g)(2) "illegal activities" prohibition. I recommended that rather than registering their concern in writing to OMB they merely refer to their contact with us and we for our part will go towards a possible revision on our comment on (g)(2) either by limiting our comment to the statement that it is inappropriate and unnecessary or provide further explanation of the specific problems which could be encountered by the obvious overbreadth of the provision. Malmberg agreed. 25X1

9. [redacted] Bill Jones, INR/State, called and wanted to know if Mr. Malmberg, State Department, and I had yet talked on the Director's proposed comments on S. 244 amending the National Security Act. I reported the results as stated above. 25X1

On our proposed unauthorized disclosure legislation, Jones said that Mr. Hyland, OMB, agreed with State's legal advisers that the timing was not propitious. I said this involved an arguable difference of opinion because I was quite sure Mr. Colby was still committed to pursue the legislation and that we were still not convinced that the problems reflected in State's proposed reply to OMB on the legislation were solid, but I thanked Jones for his good efforts on our behalf.

He also told me that a new bill on criminal justice information, a combined effort by Senator John V. Tunney (D., Calif.) and Congressman Don Edwards (D., Calif.) may be introduced in the near future. We concluded by agreeing to meet sometime during the week of the 27th through 30th May to discuss H.R. 61.

I told him we would do what we could to inform them of our stake in this, but strictly from the intelligence side. O'Donnell said that would be very helpful.

Tammen had previously requested tax data on North Vietnam for some academicians with whom Senator Proxmire is cooperating. I passed this information to [redacted] who is going to check into it.

8. [redacted] Called Jim Purcell, OMB, who is handling the Justice Department's draft bill on criminal justice, which we have been asked to comment on. I informed Purcell that an identical bill, H.R. 61, drafted by the Justice Department, had already been submitted this Congress and was to be the subject of hearings later this month before a House Judiciary Subcommittee. Purcell was quite puzzled at this and said he would find out the relationship of the two bills.

9. [redacted] Called Jim Wentzel, Office of Legislative Affairs, Department of Justice, regarding the status of H.R. 61, upon which Justice was scheduled to testify next week. Wentzel informed me that the hearings had been postponed by the House Judiciary Subcommittee on Civil Rights and Constitutional Rights and would probably be rescheduled in June. I also told Wentzel we had received a request for comments on the Justice draft bill identical to H.R. 61 and he was quite perplexed at this development.

18. [redacted] 25X1
Talked to Jim Wentzel, Office of Legislative Affairs, Department of Justice, who had drafted the Administration's bill on control of criminal justice information, H. R. 61.
I raised several questions about the bill, saying that I thought we might be covered by the definition of criminal justice agency, and that the consequences would be very hard for us to live with. He said that he didn't intend to cover the Agency and that he didn't think we would have any problem. I pointed out several sections to him and he said he would look them over and get back to me. In a short time he phoned me back and said that while he thought he had made clear what systems the bill was supposed to cover, he would encourage us to approach the House Judiciary Subcommittee on Civil Rights and Constitutional Rights if we believe more clarity was necessary.

Counsel, Senate Armed Services Committee, and Frank Slatinshek, Chief

our own projects. 25X1

Ron Tammen, Senator Proxmire's office, called regarding Dr. Proctor's meeting with the Senator on Monday. He said he told the Senator that Proctor would prefer to talk to him personally but the Senator does want either Tammen or Kauffman or both there. Tammen said the meeting could be set up anytime after 3:30. He said the hearings before the Appropriations Subcommittee could be set for 4 or 5 June. After checking with Dr. Proctor, I confirmed 3:30 on Monday, 12 May. I also informed Proctor that either Tammen or Kauffman would be sitting in on the meeting.

21. [redacted] 25X1
[redacted] called to say he had a message that Senator Henry Bellmon had called him. He wanted to know if we had any idea what the Senator wanted with him. I checked and told him we knew nothing about it. He said he would let us know what this is all about.

25X1
22. [redacted] 25X1
Mr. Duckett's secretary called to say Senator Stuart Symington had called Duckett directly, but Duckett would not be back until very late in the day. Mr. Cary called the Senator's office to pass this message and asked if there was anything he could do. Amelia Graves, Secretary to Senator Symington, said she did not know what the Senator wanted but he was out for the rest of the day anyway and Mr. Cary told her Duckett would call the Senator back tomorrow morning.
